A Message from the Founder and CEO

Welcome to Orenda Education! We are pleased that you have joined us and we know that your professional contributions will assist us in being a leader in providing quality educational services.

As an employee of Orenda, it is your responsibility to be knowledgeable about the contents of the employee handbook. Please take time to read it carefully, familiarizing yourself with its contents as soon as possible, because the handbook should answer many of your initial and ongoing questions about your employment with Orenda.

While the information contained in the handbook should give you answers to most of the general questions you might have about your job or Orenda's programs and practices, it is not intended to cover every situation that might arise. If you have questions about these guidelines or need further information about a specific policy, please consult with your supervisor or the Human Resources Department.

We hope that you find the Orenda Employee Handbook full of helpful and valuable information about the policies, benefits, practices, and opportunities available to guide and assist you in performing to the best of your ability and developing and realizing your potential as a valued employee.

Again, we are glad you have joined us and look forward to an association that is professionally rewarding and serves the best interests of students.

Company History

Incorporated in 1995, Orenda Education started out as a private not-for-profit organization that operated an emergency shelter for children who had been abused or neglected. The organization grew and eventually owned and operated a comprehensive behavioral healthcare system serving children and adolescents that included an emergency shelter, a psychiatric hospital, a residential treatment center and a psychiatry group practice clinic.

Orenda obtained a school charter in 2001 (generation 7) from the Texas State Board of Education and launched Orenda Charter Schools, a subsidiary of Orenda Education in January, 2002 to serve the school age patients being served in the Orenda behavioral healthcare system. A new school philosophy and structure was introduced. Teachers who fit the new educational model were hired. The Circle of Courage educational philosophy and curriculum was implemented and by the second year students began making dramatic strides in academic performance.

In 2005 the Orenda Education governing board decided to focus the organization's mission solely on the education of students. The hospital, residential treatment center and clinic were sold. The net proceeds from the sale of the company's healthcare programs and assets are being utilized to open additional Orenda schools.

Orenda celebrated our 25-year anniversary in 2020! Our organization has grown from a handful of employees to over 200 staff that serve over 1900 students in 4 schools.

Mission, Vision, and Core Values

Mission:

To create new and innovative school choice opportunities for families seeking an alternative to the large, more traditional public school system.

Vision:

To be a leader in the charter school movement, providing life-changing academic instruction to students who may not reach their academic and human potential in the large, more traditional public school system.

Core Values:

Belonging – Mastery – Independence – Generosity

Orenda schools are based on the “Circle of Courage” philosophy. The Circle of Courage is an integrated, holistic approach to child development and learning intended to promote a sense of belonging, mastery, independence and generosity. The Circle of Courage serves as a moral character development guide for our faculty and our students and helps set the tone for the students to become successful academically.

At the core is our commitment to provide a school culture where all our staff and students feel welcomed and know they are a vital part of the school community (Belonging).

We believe that each student has unique talents and gifts that must be discovered before the student can begin to feel competent. Increased competency enhances self-esteem and provides the motivation for further achievement (Mastery).

At Orenda schools, our goal is to provide a stimulating academic experience where students can grow, develop and have ownership over their learning. Our schools are a place where students can have the freedom to learn in their own style, at their own pace and through their own interests (Independence).

We also believe every student has a tremendous capacity for good will. We teach the importance of being generous and unselfish and expect our students to serve the school and the community through participation in our various service clubs (Generosity).

Staff Guidelines

Basic Principles

Orenda Education is dedicated to full compliance with all applicable laws and regulations governing our work. We conduct our business affairs and employment relationships in the most professional and ethical manner possible. The policies contained in this section of the employee handbook describe the basic principles that guide our compliance programs and employee relations practices.

Ethical Practices

Orenda Education is committed to providing quality services in a highly ethical manner. The purpose of the Policy on Ethical Practices is to help prevent violations of law and also to establish standards of conduct so that Orenda has a reputation for unquestioned ethical practices. Orenda employees, associates and board members are expected to maintain their conduct according to the principles outlined in the Policy.

Conflicts of Interest

Each employee owes a duty of loyalty to our company. Employees shall avoid any activity that may involve, or may appear to involve, a conflict of interest with their obligations to Orenda or the school in which they work.

Orenda employees shall not use any information about Orenda or its schools for their personal benefit. Employees should disclose business information only as required in the performance of their job duties or as expressly authorized by Orenda. Violation of this policy may result in personal liability to the employee for any benefit gained from improper use of such information or any damages sustained by Orenda or its subsidiaries as a result of improper disclosure of such information.

Employees should immediately disclose any potential conflicts of interest involving Orenda or its schools and themselves or their immediate families (including spouse or children). The Disclosure Statement form should be used for this purpose. This can include vendors, relationship to other employees, other outside employment, etc.

If you believe an inappropriate, improper, unethical, or illegal practice is occurring, or has occurred at Orenda, you must report the activity immediately. You are encouraged to inform your immediate supervisor or, in lieu of that, any member of management, the Company Chief Executive Officer or a Company Board Member.

Equal Employment Opportunity

It is the policy of Orenda that all persons are entitled to equal employment opportunity regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, or any other status or trait protected by state, federal, or local law. Additionally, it is the Company's policy to provide promotion and advancement opportunities in a nondiscriminatory fashion.

Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Orenda that, as an employee, you and your work environment shall be free from all forms of sexual harassment. Unwanted verbal and physical conduct of a sexual nature by any employee, supervisor, manager or vendor, including sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other such conduct is illegal and strictly prohibited.

What is Sexual Harassment? Sexual harassment does not refer to behavior or occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature. It refers to behavior that is not welcome, that is personally offensive, and that fails to respect the rights of others, and, therefore, interferes with our work effectiveness.

Sexual harassment is unwelcome sexual advances, request for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that either implies or clearly states that your employment is dependent on submission to such conduct or behavior. It also includes employment decisions that are made concerning you based on your submission to, or rejection of, such conduct and conduct that has the purpose or effect to create sexually intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment may be overt or subtle. Whatever form it takes – verbal, non-verbal, or physical – sexual harassment is insulting and demeaning to the recipient and will not be tolerated in the workplace. The prohibition against sexual harassment applies not only to the workplace during normal business hours but also to all work-related social functions, whether on company property or not, and to business-related travel.

Reporting - It is imperative that you be aware of the avenues for reporting harassment that are available to you. If you feel you are being subjected to sexual harassment in the workplace by a co-worker, manager, supervisor or other individual (whether employed by the Company or not), or if you believe your employment is being adversely affected by such conduct, you should report the alleged act immediately to your supervisor or the Director of Human Resources.

Investigative Process - All complaints will be handled in a timely and confidential manner in order to protect you, encourage the reporting of any incidents of sexual harassment and protect the reputation of any employee wrongfully charged with sexual harassment.

All employees, managers and supervisors are expected to comply with this policy and cooperate in any investigation surrounding allegations of sexual harassment. Investigation of a complaint normally includes conferring with the parties involved and any named or apparent witnesses. You will not be subject to coercion, intimidation, retaliation, interference or discrimination for filing a complaint or assisting in an investigation.

Disciplinary Action - Appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including discharge, will be taken based on the outcome of the investigation and the seriousness of the offense.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Orenda complies with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and does not discriminate against any individual in recruitment, interviewing, hiring, or during the course of employment with the company. As required by law, Orenda will provide reasonable accommodation for a known disability of an applicant or employee, unless the accommodation would cause an “undue hardship” on the operation of our business.

Drug Free Workplace

Orenda is committed to providing a safe work environment and to fostering the well-being and health of its employees. That is jeopardized when any Orenda employee illegally uses drugs on or off the job, comes to work under the influence, possesses, distributes or sells drugs in the workplace, or abuses alcohol or inhalants on the job.

Violations - It is, a violation of company policy for you to use, possess, sell, trade, offer for sale, or offer to buy illegal drugs or otherwise engage in the illegal use of drugs on or off the job. It is also a violation of company policy for you to work under the influence of or the impairment by alcohol. Further, you are prohibited from using prescription drugs illegally, i.e., to use prescription drugs that have not been legally obtained or in a manner or for a purpose other than as prescribed.

Disciplinary Action - If you are found in violation of this policy you will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including immediate termination. The goal of this policy is to balance our respect for individuals with the need to maintain a safe, productive and drug-free environment. The intent of this policy is to offer a helping hand to those who need it, while sending a clear message that the illegal use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol are incompatible with employment at Orenda.

Treatment - Benefits may be available for alcohol/substance abuse treatment if you are enrolled in a health plan offered by Orenda. Both inpatient and outpatient coverage is available to the extent specified in the plan document. You should review your summary plan description for an explanation of the approved benefits. You will not be subject to discrimination or retaliation in the workplace should you seek treatment or if you are considered to be recovering from addiction.

Testing - To maintain a Drug Free Workplace, Orenda reserves the right to conduct pre-employment substance abuse testing. Orenda will not discriminate against applicants for employment because of a past history of drug or alcohol abuse. It is the current illegal use of drugs and/or abuse of alcohol in violation of Company policy that Orenda will not tolerate.

Orenda reserves the right to test any employee for drug, alcohol or inhalant use if there is probable cause to believe that the employee is working while under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

Search of Personal Property - In the course of an investigation of drug use, inhalant use and/or use of alcohol in violation of the policy, Orenda reserves the right for a Company employee or representative to conduct a search of your person, desk, locker, automobile, briefcase, purse, or any other personal property that has been brought onto the company's property.

Employment at Will

Orenda employs you for an indefinite term and your employment may be terminated with or without cause, at any time, at the will of either you or the Company. No employee of the Company is authorized to represent or offer to any applicant, prospective employee or present employee, employment on terms other than this without specific written authorization from the Orenda CEO. It should be clearly understood that this Employee Handbook does not constitute a contract of employment or any other type of contract. The Company may change or modify these or other policies or procedures relating to employment matters from time to time as it considers appropriate in its sole discretion either in individual or corporate-wide situations without notice to you.

All corporate policies and procedures are interpreted and applied by the Company at its sole discretion, and its decisions in this regard are final. Under no circumstances are the policies and procedures set out in this Employee Handbook, or in other communications to you, promises by the Company that your employment will always be governed by them.

Your Job and Opportunities

To a large extent, your individual success and the successful performance of your department depend upon the quality of teamwork between you and your supervisor. One of your supervisor's fundamental responsibilities is to inform you of your job duties and answer questions about your job. This section of the employee handbook will provide you with additional information on other aspects of your work, such as internal job opportunities, employment eligibility, performance evaluation and training and development within the Company.

Job Openings

It is the policy of Orenda to fill job openings from qualified candidates. Generally, you should be employed at least six months before applying, internally, for posted positions unless your supervisor gives you express permission.

Job openings are usually posted on the Company's web site or through other notice methods by Human Resources. Qualified, interested employees have the opportunity to apply for open positions upon notifying their current supervisor of their interest.

Internal transfers must be in good standing which includes performance, attendance, punctuality, attitude, and circle of courage values that support and incorporate our mission and vision. In addition, internal transfers will complete the regular job opening process such as application, interview, etc. If chosen for an open position by the Hiring Manager, HR will be notified and an offer letter will be made. In addition, the Superintendent will approve the transfer to ensure an appropriate transition plan between roles is in place.

It is at the discretion of the Superintendent and HR to promote an employee without having to go through the application process if the employee has proven themselves over the course of a year or more. The employee would have to be in good standing with excellent evaluations, attendance, and meets the Circle of Courage philosophy.

Employment Eligibility

Authorized Workers - It is the policy of Orenda to hire only authorized workers. Persons who are not citizens of the United States will be considered for employment on the same basis as citizen applicants, subject to the laws and regulations of the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986 and those agencies having jurisdiction over aliens. Orenda will verify the employment eligibility and identity of each new hire. Human Resources must attest that examination of the document(s) specified on the I-9 Immigration and Naturalization Form has been made.

Age Requirements - Candidates for employment must have reached at least their eighteenth birthday. The age limitation stated above is the only limitation related to age and employment utilized by Orenda.

Employment of Relatives - It is the policy of Orenda that relatives shall not be hired, transferred, promoted and/or demoted on either a temporary or regular basis into positions of a supervisory/subordinate relationship.

Marriage of Employees - In the event that the marriage of two employees results in either the husband or wife being in a supervisory/subordinate relationship, a transfer, promotion or demotion of one of the employees is required within six months after the date of marriage. If no suitable opening is available, one of the employees will be required to give proper termination notice or the employee with the least Orenda service will be involuntarily terminated.

Pre-employment Screening - Background investigations, including criminal background checks, are conducted on all new and/or rehired personnel within the guidelines of Orenda policy (and/or Federal, State, and local law, if different), when an offer of employment has been extended. Additionally, pursuant to Senate Bill 9, all employees of Orenda Education must be submitted to Texas Education Agency (TEA) for a review of criminal history reports and to be identified for fingerprinting through FAST Fingerprint Pass. Employment with Orenda is conditional based on the result of the screening and an adverse report could result in termination of employment.

Licensing and Certification - If you are in a position that requires licensure or certification you must maintain current, up-to-date licensure or certification with the appropriate state or national board or agency. Orenda will verify all licenses and, if permitted by applicable state requirements, may maintain a copy of your current, valid, and required licenses, registrations and/or certifications. You will not be allowed to continue working without the required current licensure or certification for your position.

You are responsible personally for maintaining current license, registration, and/or certification at all times. You must present your renewal to Human Resources and/or your supervisor before the expiration date. The new verification form or licensure copy will be filed in your personnel file.

Annual Salary Increases – The Board reviews recommendations for salary increases for staff during the budget approval each summer. In order to be eligible for the approved salary increases you must have been in your current position/role for the minimum 90 work days for TRS service credit.

Employment Categories & Classifications

Orenda maintains different employment categories based upon the frequency and number of hours of work normally scheduled for the employee.

Regular, Full Time - You are a regular full-time employee if you work, on a regularly scheduled basis, more than 30 hours per week and your employment is for no definite term. All benefits offered by the Company are available to you as a regular full-time employee.

Regular, Part Time - You are a regular part-time employee if you work, on a regularly scheduled basis, less than 30 hours per week but at least 15 hours per week. Regular part-time employees are employed for no definite term and are entitled to limited employee benefits.

Exempt v. Non-Exempt Designation. Each employment position is designated as either non-exempt or exempt as required by the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Exempt Positions. Exempt employees are expected to work the hours necessary to complete their assigned work to the satisfaction of their supervisor without regard to scheduled hours and without expectation of additional compensation. Exempt employees are not entitled to overtime compensation. Generally, teaching and administrative positions are designated as exempt positions. Extra duties beyond the hired role can receive stipend pay (pre-determined) or approved through a Personal Service Agreement (PSA) form such as Saturday school work or Summer School. All extra duty is pre-determined and approved with specific details regarding the extra duty. Staff should not request stipend pay for extra duty after the fact with no prior approval. Stipend work is pre-approved before the work begins and a stipend pay sheet or PSA form is completed with details and approvals by the supervisor/Principal and Superintendent. The form is then submitted to the payroll department for payment processing to the employee. Note: instructional, extracurricular and athletic stipends are paid in the July payroll.

- 1) Teaching positions are classified as exempt positions if:
 - a) The primary duty is teaching, tutoring, instructing or lecturing in the activity of imparting knowledge; and
 - b) They are employed and engaged in this activity as a teacher in an educational establishment.

- 2) Administrative positions are classified as exempt positions if:
 - a) The position is compensated on a salary basis at a rate of $913 or more per week; and
 - b) The primary duty is performance of office or non-manual work directly related to the management or general business operations of the employer or the employer's customers; and
 - c) The primary duty includes the exercise of discretion and independent judgment with respect to matters of significance.

Non-Exempt Positions. Non-exempt employees are entitled to minimum wages and overtime pay. Overtime payment is pay at a rate of at least one and one-half times an employee's "regular rate of pay" for any hours physically worked (not including leave time) over 40 hours in a workweek. Generally, paraprofessionals are classified as non-exempt employees. All non-exempt employees must review their timecards daily & weekly to ensure for accuracy. Direct supervisors must review and approve their employees' time cards weekly.

A non-exempt employee is never permitted to work "off the clock". While all hours worked will be compensated appropriately, an employee’s failure to report hours accurately whether too low or too high is cause for disciplinary action. Employees should immediately report to HR any effort by a supervisor to participate, encourage, or even permit an employee to work “off the clock” in violation of this overtime provision.

Non-calendar work days (or off calendar days) requested by a non-exempt employee (such as weekend, holiday, or calendar breaks) must be formally pre-approved by completing a Personal Service Agreement (PSA) form. The form is approved by the supervisor/Principal and Superintendent before work can begin. Non-exempt staff working off calendar days cannot work alone – a supervisor must be present.

Performance Management

A good orientation helps you adjust to your new work environment and become a productive team member more quickly. Giving you the information and attention needed to start a new job reduces the possibility of future misunderstandings or problems.

Orientation

During orientation, you will have an opportunity to hear about and discuss a variety of issues affecting your employment including information about the history and development of the Company and the facility, benefits, compensation and corporate compliance. In addition, organizational structure and department functions may be discussed. Orientation into the department, when appropriate, will normally be conducted by your immediate supervisor. A departmental orientation should include a review of your functional role and the setting of performance goals and objectives.

Evaluation Process

Your supervisor is responsible for establishing qualitative and quantitative job expectations for the positions he or she supervises. It is his or her responsibility to discuss these expectations with you and rate your performance in relationship to these standards.

Orenda Teacher Evaluation and Support System (O-TESS)

Orenda uses the T-TESS rubric with a modified evaluation process. The O-TESS process consists of beginning-of-year goal setting, mid-year goal progress coaching conference, a minimum of three walkthroughs, teacher self-assessment, and end-of-year summative conference.

Orenda Principal Evaluation and Support System (O-PESS)

Orenda uses the T-TESS rubric with a modified evaluation process. The O-PESS process consists of beginning-of-year goal setting, mid-year goal progress coaching conference, principal self-assessment, and end-of-year summative conference.

Other Non-Academic Positions

Annual evaluations will be conducted with your supervisor through the standard evaluation process (not O-TESS or O-PESS).

If you are a new employee, your supervisor will conduct a performance review after your probationary period which is the first 90 days of service. Your supervisor should review your performance on at least an annual basis and document the quality of your performance for each objective as compared to the performance standards established for your job.

Annual performance evaluations are done at the end of the academic year. However, your supervisor may wish to complete a formal review when:

- Counseling becomes necessary due to deficiencies in your job performance, or
- Your job performance has improved significantly (and consistently) since the last Performance Evaluation, or
- Your position responsibilities have changed significantly.

Once your supervisor has reviewed your Performance Evaluation with you, it should be signed to indicate receipt of the Performance Evaluation and submitted to Human Resources for inclusion in your personnel file. Refusal to sign the evaluation does not void the process or prevent the document from being included in your file.

Job Performance Improvement

Your Supervisor should consistently provide you with ongoing feedback about your job performance. Creating a growth plan, performance coaching and other positive performance improvement actions may be taken to correct deficiencies when your performance is not meeting expectations.

A three-step approach to correcting relatively minor but continuing or serial performance deficiencies is used at Orenda. Performance coaching includes verbal counseling, one or more written warnings and finally, termination from employment if you are unsuccessful in improving performance to expected levels.

Depending on the severity of the situation, steps may be eliminated when deemed appropriate. When a very serious offense is involved, immediate termination may be appropriate and will supersede the three-step corrective action approach. Violations requiring investigation may also warrant suspension prior to final action.

Employee Development

It is the Company's policy to do all that it reasonably can to contribute to the advancement of knowledge and skills of all Orenda employees. The Company also seeks to establish and maintain a work environment that fosters the growth and development of your career and contributes to your overall job satisfaction. Orenda also encourages you to be involved in professional organizations that will enhance your position in the Company and furnish you with ongoing continuing education that provides both personal and professional benefits.

Leaving Your Employment

Since employment with Orenda is based upon continuing mutual consent, either you or Orenda may discontinue employment at any time with or without cause or notice.

Resignation with Notice - We request that you provide a written notice of your intent to leave Orenda employment. The notice should be at least two weeks (10 business days) for non-exempt employees and at least four weeks (20 business days) for exempt employees prior to the last day of employment. Your notice of resignation should include the reason for leaving and the last day you will work. You must be actively at work on your final day of employment. If you resign from the Company with proper notice (minimum of two weeks – 10 business days) you may be considered favorably for future re-employment with the Company.

Resignation without Notice - If you provide no prior notice or less than the requested notice you will be considered to have terminated without notice. Since this type of resignation is documented as such in your file, it may negatively affect your chances for future employment with Orenda.

Involuntary Termination - You are considered to be released from the Company when you are terminated due to a lack of work, reorganization, reduction-in-force, or other management decision that is based on factors outside of your control.

Discharge - Discharge occurs when you are not satisfactorily performing your assigned work or when your misconduct is serious enough to warrant termination.

Benefits at Termination - Human Resources will provide you with information concerning your benefits at termination. Benefits end the last day of the month in which you leave employment. Human Resources may also conduct an exit interview with you to determine the reason for termination and as a method to uncover problems/situations that may have led to your termination decision.

Staff Development Repayment – Staff who attended training within the twelve (12) months prior to their separation date will be responsible for reimbursing Orenda any registration fees paid for training, including, but not limited to, AVID, Advancement Placement, and professional conferences.

References - All requests for references on former employees or requests for information on current employees should be directed to and only handled by the Human Resources Department. Dates of employment, positions held, and location are the only information that will be provided on current or former employees.

Providing unauthorized references for current or former employees including verbal, personal, professional or “off the record” references are in violation of Orenda policy and may be cause for disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Re-employment

If you are an applicant for re-employment you will be considered on the basis of your qualifications and experience, including your previous work record with the Company.

Although the reasons for prior termination do not automatically exclude or qualify you for re-hire, they are important factors that should be considered in determining your suitability for re-employment. To be eligible for re-hire, you should have left the Company in good standing. Good standing is voluntary termination with appropriate notice or involuntary termination for which the employee was not at fault.

Working Together

Standards of Conduct

All employees are expected to work together in a cooperative spirit to serve the best interests of the district and to be courteous to students, one another, and the public.

Employees are expected to observe the following standards of conduct:

- Recognize and respect the rights of students, parents, other employees, and members of the community.
- Maintain confidentiality in all matters relating to students and coworkers.
- Report to work according to the assigned schedule.
- Notify their immediate supervisor in advance or as early as possible in the event that they must be absent or late. Unauthorized absences, chronic absenteeism, tardiness, and failure to follow procedures for reporting an absence may be cause for disciplinary action.
- Know and comply with campus and district policies and procedures.
- Express concerns, complaints, or criticism through appropriate channels.
- Observe all safety rules and regulations and report injuries or unsafe conditions to a supervisor immediately.
- Use district time, funds, and property for authorized district business and activities only. This includes keeping personal conversations and tasks to a minimum (5 minutes or less) and not sleeping during work time.

All district employees should perform their duties in accordance with state and federal law, district policies and procedures, and ethical standards. Violation of policies, regulations, or guidelines may result in disciplinary action, including termination. Alleged incidents of certain misconduct by educators, including having a criminal record, must be reported to SBEC not later than the seventh day after the superintendent knew of the incident. See Reports to the Texas Education Agency below for additional information.

To maintain an orderly, safe, and respectful work environment, Orenda will respond to and correct inappropriate employee behavior or conduct. Minor violations of Orenda policy or work rules may warrant only a written warning, while severe or repeated violations may warrant immediate termination.

When your personal conduct does not conform to the philosophy or policies of Orenda, the Company may take disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

Confidentiality

During the course of your employment, you often learn confidential and restricted information regarding Company operations, employees or students. Company information should be treated with the utmost confidentiality and should not be discussed with any person outside the Company.

The law requires that you keep information about student health and other personal information in the strictest confidence. Personal information concerning a student should never be discussed, except on a need-to-know basis, either inside or outside the Company and may never be released without proper authorization.

Release of confidential information is not only a serious breach of ethics, but also may involve legal proceedings and loss of job. Inquiries by any person or organization should be directed to your supervisor or the CEO/Superintendent. Release of information that is considered confidential will subject you to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Media Inquiries - Inquiries of a routine, informational or local school campus nature regarding a specific Orenda school should be directed the school Principal or to the Department of Community Relations and Development. You should refer all specific inquiries from the media regarding Orenda, and/or Orenda plans in general to the Orenda CEO.

Legal Inquiries - All contact by or inquiries from attorneys or other legal counsel not representing Orenda should be directed to the Orenda CEO immediately.

Employee Records

Personnel files are business records of the Company and are the property of Orenda. Orenda maintains accurate up-to-date confidential employee records within the Human Resources Department.

You may review your personnel record, with a member of the Human Resources staff in attendance, with at least two business days' notice. You may not copy any documents in the file without prior approval of Human Resources. Review or photocopying of personnel documents by former employees is not permitted except as required by law.

Conflict Resolution

Differences between people is a natural state, therefore conflict between individuals is to be expected as we have many differences in personality, upbringing, and opinions. Free speech and open dialogue is how we go about starting the process that leads to understanding, appreciation and compromise, allowing us to live in relative harmony while still maintaining our individualism. Great organizations create a safe atmosphere for their people to express themselves, while also providing a clear path for conflict resolution. Contained here is the pathway we have chosen at Orenda Education.

As a general rule conflicts have three levels of intensity and three levels of resolutions.

Level 1 Conflicts. These are small interpersonal disturbances between people. One individual may think something is wrong, annoying, or unfair. It could be that an employee is confused about their role, or has a conflict with a rule, a policy or a procedure. Usually these conflicts just need some clarification to clear up misunderstandings. It's not a full-blown problem or crisis – yet.

Level 1 Conflicts Resolution Process: An informal one on one conversation takes place so that the differences in opinions and feelings between individuals can be expressed and misunderstandings can be quickly resolved. Here just a short conversation or a quick informal meeting can bring about resolution. No further action is required.

Level 2 Conflicts. A level 2 conflict is more serious. Here people may disagree strongly on facts, with opinions that vary greatly. For example; people may disagree very strongly with a rule, policy or procedure. Here the stakes are higher. For example; an individual feels some task, or new job thrust upon them (or taken away), is unfair, or could negatively impact their ability to be successful in their job. Here emotions may start to run hot. For the school teacher or staff member it is when you are angry at a school leader or other staff member. When you feel hurt or disrespected. When you start to say negative things about someone to other school staff members. When you don't respect a school leader's authority or when you are about to rally other staff to your point of view about a leader. When you fear a leader or staff member.

For the school leader it is when you see or hear of a teacher or staff member doing, not doing or saying something that will harm student learning, and the school culture. When you feel disrespected, or not understood, and you begin to feel resentment toward the teacher or staff. When you think someone's attitude, behavior and language is a poison to the school culture. When you know a staff member is rallying other staff against you, or in opposition to a policy or procedure that you've implemented.

Level 2 Conflicts Resolution Process: A “Courageous Conversation” meeting is set up between two individuals to resolve the conflict.

Step 1. Create the conditions for a healthy Courageous Conversation.

This should be a one on one conversation. Don't “gang up”, or “pile on” by bringing in some other people. Decide on a safe place to talk. A neutral site is best. This could be off-campus over coffee. Now do some interpersonal self-reflection. How you think about the conflict you have with them, or that they have with you is key. What is your attitude and belief about the difficult situation? Check your motives. Avoid wanting to win, shame, embarrass or “gotcha” motives. Put yourself in their shoes. What do you imagine they want?

Step 2. Preparation before having a courageous conversation.

First, watch the video # 10 titled Conflict Resolutions Through Courageous Conversations on the Orenda Education You Tube Channel. Second, after watching the video ask yourself what is it you really want to accomplish with the conversation. Come up with a common purpose and mutual benefit that both you and the other might have. “I want the school and students to thrive”. “I don't think that policy is fair because.....” “I want to have fun and not have all this conflict”. “I want us both to enjoy working here”. “I want you to feel safe here”, “I want you to understand me, and I want to understand you better”, etc. Third, make sure the topic of the conversation is specific enough so that some progress can be made from the dialogue. Narrow it down to a simple statement of disagreement. One paragraph at most.

Step 3. Starting the Conversation and How to Maintain Safety

Once together, start by assuring them that the purpose of the conversation is to improve our relationship and understanding of each other. Next, let them know they are safe to express themselves without judgement. Also let them know this discussion will be held strictly confidential. What is said here, stays here. Now say something positive about the person, the value you believe they bring to the school. Something you have seen that they do well. Someway they have contributed to the school mission. If you can't think of any, maybe you haven't spent time getting to know them on a more personal basis or observing their work (which you must fix).

Finally, express and confirm a mutual purpose and benefit. Assure them that you care about their goals, what they want, and that you want to trust their motives. If you need to apologize for something you did in the past, do so. The tone of your voice and your body language should be calm, open and welcoming to what the other has to say.

Step 4. During the Conversation

Stay calm and respectful. Remember as you talk that you are there to pursue honesty, peace, and safety, not win-lose. Avoid “gotcha’s”, win at all costs, and counter punches to hurt or embarrass them. Don’t become defensive yourself. How? Know how to detect safety issues by paying attention to the content of what the other is saying. Watch for signs you, or the other person, is feeling fear. If you do, you must address, reaffirm safety, and then state what you don’t want (fear, silence, resentment, etc.) before continuing. Instead, clarify again what you both want, and then bring those mutual goals back to the conversation table.

Step 5. If the Conversation Gets Off Track, Bring it Back to Safety and Mutual Purpose

How? It’s not unusual for one of you to fall back into old patterns and become angry, hurt, or push the others buttons during the conversation. Here are some distractions and disruptions tactics to look out for that can derail a healthy conversation.

The dodger tactic. A person changes the topic, or brings in a host of other conflict issues to overwhelm the other person. One person has a litany of complaints against the other.

Response: Don’t take the bait. Bring the conversation back to a shared singular purpose and mutual benefit you both agreed upon.

The twister tactic: A person misrepresents your point of view or tries to stick you with some label or tag that doesn’t represent your true thoughts or intentions.

Response: Correct the record. “No, that is not what I’m saying, or what I want. Here is what I mean”.

The wrangler tactic: Nothing is ever good enough for this person. They just want to argue and don’t stay focused on one shared purpose or mutual benefit. All they really want to do is keep you frustrated. They won’t accept that your point of view has any validity.

Response: Don’t brawl with them, or let them change the rules. Get it back to safety and remind them of the common purpose and mutual benefit we started the conversation with.

The liar tactic: This person offers not just one lie, but many misrepresentations of you. They try to overwhelm you with the burden of proof.

Response: Plug the lie(s) by picking out just one lie and replace it with facts and the truth. You can’t respond to every lie. Refocus the conversation back to safety and mutual purpose.

In summary, recognize the purpose behind these derailing tactics and the old strategy of win-lose, but also recognize it is getting off track and recommit to seek mutual purpose and safety. Revisit the mutual purpose, or invent a new purpose and brainstorm new strategies if needed. If the courageous conversation doesn’t resolve the conflict move to Level 3 resolution.

Level 3 Unresolved Conflicts. Here the one on one Courageous Conversation(s) have reached a stalemate with no significant progress toward a mutual resolution. Now the process follows the “One Over One Rule”. The one over one rule at Orenda Education, and Orenda Charter School District, is that everyone is accountable to someone (see the district and campus specific organization charts for these reporting relationships). Accountability flows up the chart. From the CEO and Superintendent who are responsible to the Orenda Board of Directors, to the teacher who is responsible to a section head or principal, or a district staff member who is responsible to a department director, all major decisions are to be approved by, and conflicts resolved by, the person that employee is accountable too.

Level 3 Unresolved Conflicts Resolution Process:

Step 1. Ask for a “courageous conversation” with the person’s supervisor.

Step 2. Fill out the short Level 3 Unresolved Conflict Meeting Request Form in the Employee Tools Section of the Orenda Education web-site. Only the allowed word count on the form to explain the conflict and what has been done to date to resolve the conflict is allowed. No additional information or attachment will be accepted. Please note, this filled out form must also be copied and sent to the person you have the conflict with.

Step 3. A courageous conversation will now take place with the person you have the unresolved conflict with and that person’s supervisor. The Supervisor shall start, monitor, and end the conversation, using the same principles for courageous conversations described above. The supervisor summarizes any resolution that was reached between the parties.

Step 4. The supervisor’s decision on matters of the conflict is final. No further appeal is granted. For example, a conflict with a teacher is decided by the person that teacher reports too. A conflict with a Principal/HOS is decided by the person the Principal/HOS reports too. A conflict with the Superintendent and/or CEO is decided by the Board of Directors.

Relationships at Work

It is your responsibility to establish and maintain an appropriate and professional relationship with staff, student, parents, and visitors. In a like manner, Orenda is committed to your safety and well-being and discourages the expression or demonstration by staff, student, parents, and visitors of inappropriate social and/or sexual behavior toward any Orenda employee. You are required to report any such inappropriate behaviors expressed or exhibited toward employees or by fellow employee members towards others.

Some relationships between employees can interfere with company morale, create the risk of favoritism, or give the appearance of favoritism. Relationships of a romantic or sexual nature may also lead to claims of sexual harassment if only one party later wishes to end the relationship. You should understand that while you may date another employee, if you feel pressured to date or otherwise become involved romantically with anyone that you do not wish to be involved with, you should notify Human Resources.

While Orenda does not seek to interfere with your personal life or your off-duty conduct, we do feel it is appropriate to discourage romantic or sexual relations between employees in order to maintain a professional atmosphere free from distractions, favoritism and improprieties. Under no circumstances, can an employee have a romantic or sexual relationship with a student. This would be subject to an investigation up to and including termination along with any additional reporting requirements.

Employees who become involved in a mutually romantic relationship with another employee cannot also have a worker – supervisor reporting relationship. Management should be notified when this occurs so that the reporting lines of authority may be changed when possible.

A married employee involved in a romantic or sexual relationship with another employee is considered to be inappropriate behavior and are grounds for termination if not stopped immediately upon notice.

Smoke Free Workplace

In accordance with school law’s zero tolerance, and because Orenda feels a responsibility to provide and maintain a healthful, clean and safe working environment, smoking is not permitted at the Orenda corporate and school locations.

You are encouraged to accept the responsibility of informing our visitors of the Company’s smoke free workplace policy.

Solicitation

It is recognized that there are many worthy causes in which Orenda employees have an interest. However, some limitations must be imposed on solicitation activities to avoid disruption of company operations.

You may not solicit others or distribute literature for any cause during working time. Working time does not include break periods and meal times, or other periods during the workday when the employees are not properly engaged in performing their work tasks.

Only approved Orenda charitable solicitation campaigns may be conducted on Company property during work times. Only the CEO & Director of Community Relations & Development may approve those campaigns/programs for which solicitation will be made.

Your Work Environment

Your safety and security, as well as that of our students and other customers, is of the utmost importance to Orenda. This section of the handbook provides you with information on school and facility-based safety programs, your personal safety while working for Orenda and the security requirements for all Orenda data information systems and media.

Workplace Safety

Orenda has a safety program that provides for the protection of property and personal safety of employees, visitors and students.

Accidents - Orenda safety and loss prevention programs will provide specific procedures to handle incidents involving injuries to employees, visitors and students. In the event of an accident you are to report this immediately to your supervisor and complete the necessary incident report form.

Damage to Property – Orenda expects all staff, students and visitors to respect and take care of school property and buildings. If damage to the building or property is found or seen, an incident report should be completed. It is also important for staff to communicate a no tolerance policy (disciplinary action to follow) with the students they work with regarding the behavior of damaging property. It should not be tolerated and is not part of our school culture.

Fire Safety - To provide for the protection of life and property, all Orenda owned or leased facilities and schools prepare and execute fire emergency plans as part of the safety and loss prevention program and in compliance with local rules and regulations.

Student Transportation - Transporting students in personal vehicles is strictly prohibited.

Pets - Pets (except for approved service animals) should not be brought on campus. Live animals for instructional purposes need to be approved in advance by the Principal and superintendent.

Caffeine – Staff are prohibited from providing students with drinks containing caffeine.

Orenda is committed to providing a safe workplace that is free from violence or threats of violence. Any and all acts of violence in the workplace are prohibited and subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge. Additionally, any and all threats of violence, direct or indirect, serious or said in jest, are prohibited. All threats will be taken seriously and are subject to disciplinary action, up to and including discharge.

Employees concerned about family violence being brought into the workplace or onto the work parking lot are encouraged to notify their supervisor or the Human Resources Director.

Any employee who receives a protective or restraining order that lists Orenda as a protected area is required to provide the HR Director with a copy of the order and information requested by Orenda to identify the individual subject to the order.

Personal Safety and Security

It is the Company's intention to safeguard our employees while on the job, as well as protect Company property. Given that, no person may possess, conceal or use any firearm or other weapon (including knives or any device that is primarily used to inflict injury) in or on Orenda property. You are required to report to your supervisor or assigned security officer any concern you may have regarding personal or property security.

Searches and Inspections - All Company property, including but not limited to lockers (whether secured by a lock or otherwise), desks, file cabinets, and contents held by facility personnel and company vehicles, is subject to a search at any time. You are discouraged from bringing personal items to work. The Company may, from time-to-time, search and/or require you to allow searches of briefcases, tool boxes, packages, purses and other belongings, including personal vehicles, brought onto Company property when deemed necessary and at management's sole discretion. Any failure on your part to cooperate fully with any search or inspection may lead to disciplinary action, up to and including immediate termination.

Information Security

Orenda continues to adopt and make use of new means of communication and information exchange. This means that you may have access to one or more forms of electronic media and services, including computers, e-mail, telephones, voice mail, fax machines, external electronic bulletin boards, on-line services, and the Internet.

Employee Access and Use - Orenda encourages the use of these media and associated services because they can make communication more efficient and effective and because they are valuable tools for use in accomplishing the Company's business objectives. However, you should remember that electronic media and services provided by Orenda and created for Orenda are Company property and their purpose is to facilitate and support Company business. Electronic media and services provided by Orenda are not for personal use.

You will have access only to those information resources necessary for the performance of your duties. You may not disclose or enable access of information resource to unauthorized persons and you should never compromise, disable, or destroy any information resources.

Electronic media cannot be used for knowingly transmitting, retrieving, or storing any communication that is:

- Discriminatory or harassing;
- Derogatory to any individual or group;
- Obscene;
- Defamatory or threatening; or
- Engaged in for any purpose that is illegal or contrary to Orenda's policy or business interests.

Non-compliance with the information security policies, standards, or procedures is grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination, and civil and/or criminal prosecution. The appendix of this handbook contains an Acceptable Use Agreement that must be read and signed by all employees.

Company Access to Employee Files - While the Company does not routinely monitor electronic information created and/or communicated through electronic media, individual use patterns may be monitored including web filters. Such monitoring may be used to determine cost analysis, resource allocation, optimum use of information resources, or other patterns of use that indicate an employee may be violating Orenda's policies or engaging in illegal activity.

Orenda reserves the right, at its discretion, to review your electronic files and messages to the extent necessary to ensure electronic media and services are being used in compliance with the law, this policy, and other Orenda policies.

Confidentiality

You must respect the confidentiality of other individuals' electronic communications. Except in cases in which explicit authorization has been granted by company management, you are prohibited from engaging in, or attempting to engage in:

- Monitoring or intercepting the files or electronic communications of other employees or third parties;
- Hacking or obtaining access to systems or accounts they are not authorized to use;
- Using other people's log-ins or passwords; and
- Breaching, testing, or monitoring computer or network security measures.

Anyone obtaining electronic access to other companies' or individuals' materials must respect all copyrights and cannot copy, retrieve, modify, or forward copyrighted materials except as permitted by the copyright owner.

Attendance

Standards

It is the policy of Orenda to encourage habits of good attendance and punctuality on the part of every employee. Student success should be a primary goal of all Orenda employees, and work attendance by employees is crucial to the accomplishment of this goal. All employees must be on the job, on time, in order for students to receive the support necessary to be successful. These are components of successful job performance and the provision of high quality education to those we serve.

Since excessive absences negatively impact student performance, employees should be aware that the District may employ a range of measures to manage such absences. Continued tenure in a given position may not be assured if attendance is unreliable. While occasional circumstances may cause an employee to be absent for all or part of the day, frequent absences or tardiness detracts from quality education and places an undue burden on those employees who must fill in for the absent employee.

Tardiness is defined as absence, which includes late arrival and early departure; reporting after the scheduled starting time or returning late from breaks or meal periods.

Work Day Calendars

It is very important that staff are aware of which work day calendar they are on (such as 187 day or 220 day). All work calendars are posted on the district website under the Employee Tools section and list all the roles associated with each calendar (check out the Calendar Key for a one page summary). Salaries are determined by number of days worked based on your calendar.

Notification Requirements for Illness and Emergencies

If an employee is going to be unable to report for work as assigned due to illness and/or emergency, the employee should personally notify the supervisor by phone within 4 hours of their scheduled start time. Such notice must be given as far in advance of the time assigned for reporting to work as possible. An employee absent because of illness should advise the immediate supervisor of his or her status and estimated date of return on a daily basis unless advised otherwise by the supervisor.

Absences of over three days in duration, frequent absences or absences of a suspicious nature may require a medical verification.

Excessive Absenteeism/Tardiness

Except as provided by law, employees who have excessive absences equal to 10 business days or more during one school year may be subject to separation from employment due to unavailability for work. An absence which is not covered by any available leave and is not otherwise excused is also considered an excessive absence. A workday, for purposes of this policy, is a day on which the employee is required to perform services for the District as determined by the employee’s work schedule set by the District. After 10 days, employees must submit a written request for any personal day taken to the Superintendent for approval.

For the purpose of this policy excessive tardiness and/or absences is defined as follows. Employees who arrive at work later than the scheduled starting time are considered tardy. Those who arrive late more than three (3) times in any month or twelve (12) times in any twelve-month period are considered to be tardy an excessive number of times and may result in dismissal.

If an employee is going to be late, the School Principal or Immediate Supervisor must be notified directly, no later than the time the employee's scheduled work period begins. At no time should the employee give their message to anyone other than the designated supervisor.

The Supervisor should monitor their employees’ absences and tardies and should be discussed with the employee if there appears to be an issue. This should also be reflected on a Performance Evaluation and/or on an Employee Performance Improvement Plan form. These should be forwarded to the HR Director to be placed in the employee's Personnel File.

Job Abandonment

An employee who walks off the job and leaves their work station without notifying their supervisor will be considered to have abandoned their job.

An employee absent from work for two consecutive days without notifying the immediate supervisor or his/her designee will be considered to have quit without notice.

Unexcused absences are cause for dismissal. One (1) unexcused absence will result in a verbal counseling; two (2) unexcused absences within a 12-month period will result in a written counseling; and a third (3) unexcused absence within a 12-month period will result in dismissal.

Absence from Duty

Orenda offers a number of leave time off benefits to school employees in order to attract and retain talented people and enhance their employment with the Company. These programs include State Personal Time, Local Sick Time, Bereavement, Jury Duty pay and voting time. The specific provisions for each program are explained in this policy.

Leave Policy

For exempt staff, leave may be taken in full day or half day increments, per FLSA guidelines, since staff are paid by a daily rate.

For non-exempt staff, leave may be taken in any increments because staff are paid by the hour.

State Personal Leave

All eligible employees earn 5 State Personal Leave days based on their scheduled hours over the course of a calendar year. There is no limit on the accumulation of state personal leave and it can be transferred to other Texas School districts and is generally transferable to education service centers.

Scheduling Time Off

Personal leave that is taken at an employee's discretion must be scheduled at least 10 business days in advance. Employee requesting personal leave will request in writing to his/her supervisor and then must be entered in Frontline absence reporting. Personal leave will be granted subject to the following limitations so that it does not cause an undue hardship on the Campus or District:

- No more than 5% of campus employees can be out due to personal leave, for our small and rural campuses this will be subject to the discretion of the Campus Principal
- May not last more than three consecutive work days, with a maximum of five in a semester and ten in a school year
- Personal leave may not be taken on the following key days*:
 - The day before a school holiday
 - The day after a school holiday
 - Days scheduled for end-of-semester or end-of-year exams
 - Days scheduled for STAAR/EOC tests
 - Professional or staff development days
 - The first day of school
 - The last day of school

*For extenuating circumstances, leave requested on a key day will require Principal/Supervisor and Superintendent approval at least two weeks (10 business days) in advance.

Normally, leave request should be considered on a first come, first serve bases, however, if two requests are presented simultaneously, the employee with longer continuous service and in good standing should be given first consideration.

The Principal/supervisor will approve/deny all requests for personal leave until they reach the max of (10 days) total regardless of the leave being used. In which case, requests will be submitted to the Principal/Supervisor and Superintendent for approval and copied to the HR Director. Employee will automatically be docked his/her daily rate of each absence taken on a day that has not received final approval from the superintendent or designee and a negative write up may be placed in their personnel file.

Local Sick Leave

All eligible employees earn 5 Local Sick Leave days based on their scheduled hours over the course of a calendar year. There is no limit on the accumulation of local sick leave. However, local sick leave does not transfer to other Texas school districts.

If an employee uses more sick leave than he or she has earned, and no personal state leave is available, the employee will be docked their daily rate for the days missed and will be deducted from the employee's next paycheck. Local sick leave can be used for the following reasons only:

- Illness of the employee
- Illness of a member of the employee's immediate family (see Bereavement for the definition of immediate family)
- Doctor appointment for yourself
- Doctor appointment for your family
- Family medical emergency

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) is a federal law that provides eligible employees of covered employers with unpaid, job-protected leave for specified family and medical reasons.

Covered Employer. Orenda is a private employer covered under the FMLA because it is a public elementary or secondary school. Eligible Employees. An employee is eligible for FMLA leave if the employee (a) has worked for the charter school for at least 12 months, (b) has worked for the charter school for at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months before leave is taken, and (c) works at a location where the charter school has at least 50 employees within 75 miles of their worksite.

Authorized FMLA Leave. An eligible employee may take up to 12 weeks of unpaid job-protected FMLA leave in any 12-month period for the following reasons:

- Birth of a child or to care for the newborn child
- Placement of a child with the employee for adoption or foster care
- Employee is needed to care for the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent with a serious health condition
- The employee's own serious health condition makes the employee unable to perform the functions of the employee's job
- Any qualifying exigency arising from the foreign deployment of the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent with the Armed Forces
- To care for a covered service member with a serious injury or illness if the employee is the service member's spouse, child, parent, or next of kin

Twelve Month Period. For purposes of an employee's entitlement to FMLA leave, Orenda establishes the 12-month period as August 1 through July 31 which corresponds with our work day calendars.

Authorized FMLA Leave for Spouses. Spouses who are employed by the charter school may be limited to a combined total of 12 weeks of FMLA leave during any 12-month period if leave is taken for the birth of a son or daughter, the placement of a child for adoption or foster care, or to care for a parent with a serious health condition.

Requesting FMLA Leave. To take FMLA leave, employees must provide Orenda with appropriate notice. If employees know in advance that they will need FMLA leave, they must give at least 30 days advanced notice. If employees learn of the need for FMLA leave less than 30 days in advance, they must give notice as soon as possible.

Medical Certification. Upon receipt of the employee’s request for FMLA leave, Orenda may request medical certification from the health care provider of the employee or of the employee’s health provider, as applicable. If medical certification is requested, the employee has 15 calendar days to provide it. The employee is responsible for the cost of securing the certification from a health care provider and for timely returning the signed certification the employee’s direct supervisor or HR. Similarly, charter school also may require, in order for the employee to return to work, medical certification that the employee is fit for duty.

Qualifying Exigency. An eligible employee may take FMLA leave for one or more of the following qualifying exigencies arising from the foreign deployment of the employee’s spouse, son, daughter, or parent:

1. Short-notice deployment.
2. Military events and related activities.
3. Childcare and school activities.
4. Financial and legal arrangements.
5. Counseling.
6. Rest and recuperation.
7. Post-deployment activities.
8. Parental care.
9. Additional activities, provided that the district and employee agree that the leave shall qualify as an exigency and agree to both the timing and duration.

The charter school may require that leave for a qualifying exigency be supported by a certification.

Intermittent Leave. Employees are entitled to take FMLA leave on an intermittent or reduced scheduled basis.

- If an employee needs intermittent or reduced schedule leave that is foreseeable based on planned medical treatment, the employee may be temporarily transferred to an alternative position that better accommodates recurring periods of leave.
- When leave is taken after the birth of a healthy child or placement of a healthy child for adoption or foster care, an employee may take leave intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule only if the charter school agrees.

FMLA Leave Through the End of the Academic Semester. The charter school may require an employee to take FMLA leave until the end of an academic semester. If the charter school requires an employee to extend the employee’s leave in accordance with this provision, then only the period of leave until the employee is ready and able to return to work shall be charged against the employee’s FMLA leave entitlement. Any additional leave required by the charter school to the end of the academic semester is not counted as FMLA leave.

Maintenance of Health Benefits. During an employee’s FMLA leave, Orenda will maintain the employee’s coverage under any group health plan on the same basis as coverage would have been provided if the employee had been continuously employed during the entire leave period.

Returning to Work. On return from FMLA leave, an employee is entitled to be returned to the same position the employee held when leave began, or to an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay, and other terms and conditions of employment.

- An employee is entitled to reinstatement even if the employee has been replaced or the employee’s position has been restructured to accommodate the employee’s absence. However, an employee has no greater right to reinstatement or to other benefits and conditions of employment than if the employee had been continuously employed during the FMLA leave period.
- An employee is entitled to any unconditional pay increases that may have occurred during the FMLA leave period, such as cost of living increases.
- The charter school may deny job restoration to a key employee if such denial is necessary to prevent substantial and grievous economic injury to the operations of the district.
- When reinstating an employee to the same or equivalent position, Orenda shall consider the title, job description, duties, supervisory responsibilities, required degrees, required certifications, experience, salary, typical hours, professional capacity, and other factors related to the terms and conditions of employment for that role.

Failure to Return to Work. If, at the expiration of FMLA leave, the employee is able to return to work but chooses not to do so, the District shall require reimbursement of the premiums paid by the District during the leave.

Retaliation. Orenda is prohibited from retaliating against an employee requesting or taking FMLA leave.

Applicable Forms. For the purpose of providing notice and certifications required by this policy, the employee and the charter school shall use the charter school’s “Employee Request for Leave Form” and the FMLA forms promulgated by or substantially similar to the forms promulgated by the Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Local Personal Leave

Staff who work on an extended work day calendar (215 calendar days or higher) will have two (2) additional personal days for a total of 7 personal days. We recognize the need for additional days for staff who work longer calendars to promote positive physical and mental health and prevent burnout.

Bereavement

In the event of a death of a member of a regular, full-time employee's immediate family, he or she will be allowed up to three (3) regular scheduled days off without loss of regular pay, beginning with the day of death up to and including the day following the funeral.

The immediate family is defined as the employee's:

- Spouse
- Child or step-child
- Parent (or someone who filled the parental role)
- Grandparent (great grandparent)
- Grandchild
- Sister or Brother
- Aunt or Uncle
- Niece or Nephew
- Parents-in-law, Brother or Sister-in-law
- Any relatives living with the employee

Leave Compensation & Over Time

Compensation for leave will be based on the employee's regular base rate of pay, exclusive of any other premium compensation. Hours worked in excess of 40 hours per week do not count toward the accrual of leave time and leave hours are not counted as time worked when calculating overtime pay.

Managing Leave Accounts

All employees are responsible for managing their leave accounts and can view from the Frontline Employee Service Center (ESC) found on the district website under Employee Tools. If there is leave available, then an employee may use what has been earned/accrued with supervisor approval. However, if leave time is not available, then the employee will be docked for hours/days missed and be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Any Orenda Charter Schools employees needing to be absent from work must notify their supervisor in order to be paid for the absence. Please adhere to the following guidelines:

Planned absence: When an employee wishes to request planned time off, it should be entered in the Frontline ESC to submit to their supervisor for approval at least 10 business days prior to the absence. For those positions that require a substitute, the substitute request or arrangements should promptly so that job has better chance to be filled. Absences will be considered for approval depending on several factors including number of staff out that day, school activities occurring, your absence history and other campus hardships that may be involved.

Unplanned absence: If you must take unplanned time off, contact your supervisor immediately to report your absence so that the supervisor has maximum time to adjust schedules and personnel. You MUST notify your supervisor as soon as possible & enter the absence in Frontline as soon as possible. If your unplanned absence becomes prolonged, you must check in with your supervisor regularly or as agreed to by your supervisor.

Leave for Certification Exam: An absence associated with taking a certification exam required by Orenda is considered “School Business” ONLY for the time taking the test plus associated travel beyond the employee’s normal commute. Any time taken beyond the testing time and associated travel along with study time will be considered personal time. Leave for certification exams must be submitted in advance (through Frontline ESC) along with the testing ticket for the exam showing the test, start time, and location for approval (attach the information to the absence).

NOTE TO SUPERVISORS: If you must take time off, planned or unplanned, unless you are incapacitated to the point where you are unable to make a phone call, you must call your staff to notify them of your absence and regularly address pending concerns.

Securing Substitute for Absences

Substitutes should be secured as soon as the absence is known- at least one week in advance for personal and for uncharged absences such as staff development, school business, and jury duty. Upon arrival to work, all substitutes must report to the Office to sign in and receive a set of keys (classroom, bathroom, etc.), badge or other material distributed by the campus. At the end of the day, return the items to the Office and sign out. See the school front office staff for further substitute instructions specific to each campus location.

Grade Policy

Teachers are required to keep and maintain accurate records of student performance and attendance. This information may be kept in a written record book but, must be kept on a pre-approved grade book software computer program. When setting up grade categories and weights, the following criteria need to be followed:

- At least 60% of the grade needs to be minor grades
- No more than 40% of the grade can be major grades
- One single grade can't be weighted more than 15% of the student's report card grade
- At least one grade taken and entered in the gradebook each week
- 5 minor and 1 major grades must be given by progress report time
- 10 minor and 2 major grades must be given each report card (six or nine week) grading period
- Advanced Placement courses may weight grades 60% major and 40% minor provided at least 4 major grades are given during the report card (six or nine week) grading period

Grade categories weights must be the same for all teachers of the same course. All grading categories and weights must be approved by the campus administrator.

If a numerical grade below 50 will be recorded on the report card, the teacher must submit documentation to the principal supporting a report card grade below 50. The teacher's documentation will be available to the parent for review to support that action. The district encourages teachers to record a grade of 50 in all classes to allow students the opportunity to achieve future success in the class, especially in cases wherein students attend class consistently with five or fewer absences and have attempted all tests and in-class assignments for the grading period.

When students receive failing grades, the teachers may be required to develop targeted intervention plans to assist the failing students during the next grading period.

Lesson Plans

Teachers are required to maintain written evidence of weekly lesson planning. Teachers are expected to complete their lesson plans in the established district format with all required components. Lesson plans are due by Friday before the Monday of implementation. Lesson plans should always align to the TEKS.

Liability

Teachers or other staff members in charge of the supervision of a classroom should never leave that classroom unattended. Staff is subject to incur personal liability if an accident occurs and students assigned to them are unattended. If an emergency situation arises, contact the Principal so that coverage can be arranged. Always use your phone or intercom to communicate emergency situations to the front office.

Progress Reports and Report Cards

Interim Progress Reports are sent to parents by the teacher in the middle of each grading period (six or nine week) period for students who have below a 70 in any class. Report cards will be issued at the end of each six or nine week grading period and mailed to parents. All progress reports and report card grades must be submitted by the campus established date and time. Any report card grade corrections need to be completed on the campus form and submitted to the Principal for approval before the change can be made with the registrar.

Promotion and Retention

A student may be promoted on the basis of academic achievement and/or demonstrated proficiency in the subject matter of the course or grade level. To earn credit in a course, a student must demonstrate mastery on grade level standards and meet requirements for attendance.

Students in grades K–8 will be advanced based on a number of factors, including state test results; reading and math ability; maturity (in lower grades); and class grades. Decisions are made by a committee comprised of teachers, administrators, and, where applicable, counseling and special education staff. Parents are notified at least four weeks before the end of the school year if retention is a possibility.

A student in grades 9–12 will be advanced a grade level based on the number of course credits earned as outlined in the Student –Parent Handbook.

Student Attendance

Gateway College Prep 10:15am

Kingsland 10:15 am

Teachers are required to take attendance every period of the day for the purposes of determining class credit and grade promotion. The official attendance for the day will be taken at the ADA time established for each campus regardless of the instructional setting. Teachers have a 20-minute window, 10 minutes before and 10 minutes after the official ADA time, to submit attendance. Any student arriving after the official attendance time will be marked absent for average daily attendance purposes. IT Repair Acknowledgement Form

Damaged equipment will be evaluated by the Information Technology department only. An IT Repair Acknowledgement Form document will be filled out and submitted to the campus administration for further completion. Once completed and signed off on, the document will be submitted to the Orenda main office for processing.

This form contains the assessed damage and component breakdown cost if the warranty has been exhausted or if it is not covered. The type of damage will be determined by condition of the equipment that has been signed off on by the staff member. - * Accidental: Happening by chance, unintentionally, or unexpected
- * Negligence: Failure to take proper care in doing something
- * Gross Negligence: Extreme carelessness that shows reckless disregard for the consequences to the safety or property of another

Accidental

A first time grace will be granted to accidental damage as long as the damage is from a single incident and it is within the school year. The staff member will not be charged for the first single incident but will be issued a warning by the campus administration. An Equipment Incident Report document must be submitted to the campus administration and signed by the administrator acknowledging the submission. The original copy will be sent in to the Human Resources Director, and a scanned copy will be sent to the Director of Technology, employee's supervisor, and Head of School/Principal.

If additional accidental incidents are reported by the same employee, an Equipment Incident Report document must be submitted to the campus administration and signed by the administrator acknowledging the submission. Depending on the level of distress, this may lead to further disciplinary actions that may include an employee write up. The original copy will be sent in to the Human Resources Director, and a scanned copy will be sent to the Director of Technology, employee's supervisor, and Head of School/Principal. Once submitted, the IT department will assess the damage and fill out an IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgement form and submit it to the campus administration. The campus administration will then present the staff member with the form which will include the employee information and the description of the item that has been damaged with the cost to repair or replace the unit. The staff member will be held liable for the system repairs/parts not to exceed $300.00 followed by a write up through the campus administration. The method of payment can be selected in the “Method of Payment” portion of the IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgment form. Options include payroll deduction, a check made payable to Orenda Education, or cash. Payments of the system repairs/parts that are over $50.00 may be split into three installments.

Negligence

Mishandling of equipment resulting in damages will not be tolerated. Furthermore, placing equipment in a setting that has the potential of causing damages to it, oneself, or others will be subject to categorizing such situation as neglectful due to negligence. Repeated incidents by staff will also be categorized as negligence. This includes placing equipment out in the open and not locked away or not knowing what happened. An Equipment Incident Report document must be submitted to the campus administration and signed by the administrator acknowledging the submission. The original copy will be sent in to the Human Resources Director, and a scanned copy will be sent to the Director of Technology, employee's supervisor, and Head of School/Principal. Once submitted, the IT department will assess the damage and fill out an IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgement form and submit it to the campus administration. The campus administration will then present the staff member with the form which will include the employee information and the description of the item that has been damaged with the cost to repair or replace the unit. The staff member will be held liable for the system repairs/parts not to exceed $300.00 followed by a write up through the campus administration. The method of payment can be selected in the “Method of Payment” portion of the IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgment form. Options include payroll deduction, a check made payable to Orenda Education, or cash. Payments of the system repairs/parts that are over $50.00 may be split into three installments.

Gross Negligence

If extreme disregard showing carelessness, ignorance, recklessness, theft, or loss of equipment belonging to Orenda Education, and/or showing the same disregards to others property or safety, an automatic write up will be issued to the employee. If the equipment is missing or stolen, then a police report must be submitted along with an Equipment Incident Report. Both documents must be submitted to the campus administration and signed by the administrator acknowledging the submission. The original copy will be sent in to the Human Resources Director, and a scanned copy will be sent to the Director of Technology, employee's supervisor, and Head of School/Principal. Once submitted, the IT department will assess the damage and fill out an IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgement form and submit it to the campus administration. The campus administration will then present the staff member with the form which will include the employee information and the description of the item that has been damaged with the cost to repair or replace the unit. Damaged property due to gross negligence by the staff member who signed the equipment off will be repaired or replaced by the employee in FULL. The method of payment can be selected in the “Method of Payment” portion of the IT Repair/Replacement Acknowledgment form. Options include payroll deduction, a check made payable to Orenda Education, or cash. Payments of the system repairs/parts that are over $50.00 may be split into three installments.

Keys and Security Badges

All staff will be required to sign a key log when they receive keys and will be responsible for turning in all keys at the time of separation and changing job assignments. Staff must notify the campus principal immediately if they have lost a key. Staff will be responsible for a key replacement cost.

Subs will be issued keys and access badges when they sign in at the end of the day and will turn in keys and security badges at the end of each day.

No key will be duplicated. The unauthorized duplication of GCPS keys will adversely affect the security of staff, students and property. Violation is considered serious and grounds for termination.

For locations with door access card readers, security badges will be issued to staff. An inventory of badges will be maintained and access will be restricted during certain times. Staff must notify the campus principal and IT immediately if they have lost their security badge. Access will be removed at the time of separation, and staff must turn in their badge.

A $20.00 fee will be administered and a collection process will be conducted through the school administration office for lost or stolen badges. A badge replacement work order request must be filled out by the employee through the Eduphoria Help Desk system. Once the request gets processed, a Badge Replacement Receipt form will be filled out by the IT department and turned into the campus administration office with the replacement badge. The campus administration office will fill in the method of payment selected by the employee and send it to the Orenda administration for processing. Options include payroll deduction, a check made payable to Orenda Education, or cash.

Exterior Doors

Exterior doors must be locked at all times during the instructional day. If exterior doors are unlocked before school during arrival, a staff member will monitor the door to restrict access to just staff and students. Parents and visitors still need to report to the main office, which is the primary point of entry. Doors should not be propped open or left unattended while unlocked. Students will be trained on securely closing exterior doors and not opening the doors for individuals.

Each campus will assign an individual to complete an exterior door sweep after the start of the instructional day to make sure exterior doors are securely closed and during any other peak times when students exit through exterior doors such as during lunch times and athletic/off periods. The exterior doors will also be checked and recorded for a weekly sweep to ensure they are functioning properly.

Emergency Procedures

Detailed emergency procedures for each campus will be provided by the campus Principal. Emergency procedures will be reviewed with staff and students at the beginning of each school year.

Required Drills

The following drills are required at each campus and district locations:

- Secure Drill – One per school year
- Lockdown Drill – Two per school year (once per semester)
- Evacuation Drill – One per school year
- Shelter-In-Place for Hazmat – One per school year
- Shelter for Severe Weather – One per school year
- Fire Evacuation Drill – Four per school year

Alternate Evacuation Site

An alternate evacuation site has been established for each campus in the event that students and staff are not able to return to the campus due to an emergency situation. Campus principals will provide those sites and procedures to staff.

Ethics Non-Compliance Reporting

Orenda encourages employees to report unethical and illegal acts such as fraud, theft, severe personal misconduct, and employee acts or omissions that may threaten the reputation and/or safety of the school and school district. Reports of ethical non-compliance may be reported anonymously through the company STOPit online and app-based system. All reports of alleged unethical activity or omissions will be held confidential.

This procedure is not to be used to report unfounded rumors, false accusations, concerns related (but not limited) to petty disagreements with colleagues, complaints like equipment malfunctions or anything and everything unrelated to the organizations code of ethical practices.

All students, parents, teachers, administrators, and school staff who obtain their Internet access through the School are expected to use these services appropriately.

User Responsibilities

The use of the Internet is a privilege. Abusive conduct will lead to the privilege being revoked. Student/staff use of Internet resources must be related to an expressed educational and/or administrative goal or objective.

1. The use of the School's Internet and computer network must be in support of educational goals, research, and class assignments, and be consistent with the educational objectives of Orenda.
2. Users must have a valid, authorized account to access the network, and use only those computer resources that are authorized. Accounts may be used only in accordance with authorized purposes.
3. Individual accounts may be used only by the owner of the account, except where specifically authorized by administrators. In the case of class accounts, all use must be under the supervision of the sponsoring teacher/supervisor.
4. The user is responsible for safeguarding the computer account. Users are expected to protect access to accounts by periodically changing their password and keeping it confidential. They must respect the privacy of others by not tampering with their files, passwords, or accounts.

Acceptable Use

Users are to properly use Orenda network resources for educational and/or administrative purposes. Respectful and responsible network etiquette and behavior should be in keeping with the School's mission statement. Monitored Use

Electronic mail transmissions and other use of the electronic communications system by students and employees shall not be considered confidential and may be monitored at any time by designated staff to ensure appropriate use for educational or administrative purposes. Forgery or attempted forgery of electronic mail messages is prohibited. Only the School's authorized IT Manager may read, delete, copy or modify the electronic mail of other system users.

Vandalism

Vandalism is defined as any malicious attempt to harm, disrupt or destroy data of another user of Orenda Charter School's network or any other agencies or networks that are connected to the Internet. This includes, but is not limited to, the uploading or creating of computer viruses. Any of these actions may be viewed as violations of School policy, administrative regulations and, possibly, as criminal activity under applicable state and federal laws. Users must respect the privacy of other users, and will not intentionally seek information on, obtain copies of, or modify any file, data, or password belonging to another user, or represent themselves as another user unless explicitly authorized. Deliberate attempts to degrade or disrupt system performance and/or degrade, disrupt or bypass system security, such as VPN, are violations of School policy and administrative regulations, and may constitute criminal activity under applicable laws.

Any prohibited behavior under this policy will result in the cancellation of technology privileges. Orenda will, in accordance with School policy, cooperate with local, state, or federal officials in any investigation concerning or relating to misuse of the School’s network.

Network Etiquette

Each network user is expected to:

- Be polite (i.e., an all-caps message implies shouting);
- Use appropriate language;
- Refrain from any activity that may be considered “cyber-bullying,” including but not limited to threats of violence, extortion, obscene or harassing messages, harassment, stalking, child pornography, and sexual exploitation;
- Maintain confidentiality of the user, colleagues, and students;
